

Starting Wednesday July 13th restaurants on West Street under the back drop of St. Anne's Episcopal Church - Annapolis Maryland will be taking Al fresco dining to a new level in historic Downtown Annapolis. They will be closing the first block of West Street on Wednesday evenings and filling it with cafe tables reminiscent of the open open air cafes in Paris, France and the piazzas of Rome, Italy and Venice, Italy. Live music will softly fill the air, and special art exhibits will appear. As the sun sets, an overhead light canopy will fill the air with soft light adding to the ambience.

It's a night of relaxation, dining and fine wines. It's a place for families and friends to come together and for romantic evenings under the stars. For 12 Wednesday evenings from July 13th through September 21st, Dinner under the stars will take place from 6pm to 10pm on the first block of West Street off Church Circle. These evenings are sure to become a new Annapolis, Maryland tradition where the city can come together and enjoy the culinary arts. As outdoor space is limited, reservations are recommended to secure your place at Dinner under the stars. Call the restaurant of your choice to reserve your table.

Participating restaurants will give you a wide choice of international and hometown flavors. Make your reservations for Dinner under the stars with the following likely participating restaurants; Luna Blu Ristorante, El Toro Bravo, Tsunami Sushi Bar and Lounge, 49 West Coffeehouse, Winebar & Gallery, Stan and Joe's Saloon, Cafe Ole Annapolis, and Rams Head Tavern Annapolis

Sign up for an art class and learn to paint during Dinner under the stars at Wine & Design, check out new art exhibits at The Annapolis Collection Gallery, Whitehall Gallery, 49 West Coffeehouse, Winebar & Gallery and check out West Streets newest attraction Mission Escape Rooms - Annapolis.