Idamae's Bio

Idamae Sims – July 5, 2014

I have a long history in this city where I have lived since the age of four.

Graduating from Wiley H. Bates High School Class 1956. Retiring from our Annapolis School System after 20 years as a Teacher's Assistant. I have been actively involved in my church for forty years. I have volunteered on many city and community boards and committees receiving many certificates of appreciation for my services. The Community Action Agency, Anne Arundel Coalition of Tenants. Board member OIC (Economic Opportunity Committee, Inc.) Maryland Regional Head Start Child Development Program. I have also received many certificates of Appreciation for my community services.

When the opportunity aroused with an opening on our Annapolis Human Relations Commission, (Mayor Alfred Hopkins Mayor, 1994) it was easy for me to say "here I am, send me". I care for this city but most of all for all of its citizens, and where I have seen the need to serve, I will serve doing the best that I can to make our citizens feel a part of this city which belongs to us all.

If I am accepted, my thanks in advance.
