Maritime Republic of Eastport Declaration of War for the Annual Tug of War across Spa Creek

Mayor Gavin Buckley:

Hear Ye! Hear Ye!

Know that there is a present and grave danger posed by these secessionists who have crossed Spa Creek to express their desire to secede from our fair city.

I say NEVER!

At my command, as Mayor of this maritime port, chartered some three centuries ago by none other than the Queen of England, I hereby ask the good residents of Annapolis to yoke thine oxen and ready thine flint and sharpen thine steel for REVOLUTION!

You will never triumph in your efforts to break away! Never!

In a fortnight, we will don our breeches and petticoats and gather to defeat the neer-do-wells who fancy themselves independent. They will use a show of force to separate themselves from our rule and they will NOT succeed!

We say NEVER!

While this estrangement may be short-lived - until your defeat at the Tug of War - the penalty for your insolence will be long-lasting and I will make it known to all that your request to secede is DENIED!

NEVER give up the ship!

A. Update from the Mayor

Mayor Gavin Buckley City Council Remarks 24 October 2022 - 7 p.m.
City Council Chambers

I'd like to start out by introducing someone who will soon become a familiar face to all of us, City Council Associate Kalyn Jackson. It is her first day on the job.

Kalyn was, until very recently, a first-grade teacher in Washington DC Public Schools. I look forward to her experience in calm reasoning as she deals with all of us at City Hall. Welcome Kalyn, we are very happy to have you.

Huge thanks to Rodney Barnes who generously sponsored the Haunted Hilltop event at Pip Moyer on Sunday. What a great event for Annapolis families! The Recreation Center was decked out and kids had so much fun. The partnership we have with Rodney is invaluable and we couldn't be more grateful for the ways he has used his Hollywood success to lift residents here in his hometown.

Thank you Rodney and thanks to Adetola Ajayi from my office for his management and oversight of this very successful event.

==

This Saturday, Laura Gutierrez and her team are planning the fifth annual "Day of the Dead" festival with face painting, food and drink, music and dancing, crafts and more. That's Oct. 29 from 4 to 9 p.m. on the front lawn of Maryland Hall.

Last week, the Annapolis Police Department held their promotion ceremonies and I would like to recognize the outstanding accomplishments of our men and women in blue. First, the chief elevated four individuals to command status, the gold badge. They are: Capt. Lamar Howard, Lt. Andrew Ascione, Lt. Hil O'Hirlihy and Lt. Joseph Mann. Three sergeants, Brian Criss, Jimmy McGriff and Prince Wang, three corporals, William Joel, Jr., Travis McQueen, and Danielle Smikle. In addition to six officer promotions, this is the biggest promotions event according to Chief Jackson. Congratulations!

In a milestone achievement for the work of the APD, Annapolis Fire, OEM and the Office of the Mayor, September was the best month we have had - since we started keeping track in 2015 - in terms of overdoses with four total and zero fatalities in September. For the year, the City of Annapolis is down 32 percent overall.

I thank all in our Opioid Intervention Teams for their work to achieve this significant reduction. I know the families and loved ones of those with substance use disorder thank you too.

On Wednesday this week, the Annapolis and Anne Arundel County Resilience Board will host its first meeting at the Arundel Center. The idea for this board came from our Reimagining City Dock working group back in 2019 and when we took the idea to Stuart Pittman, he ran with it.

Senator Sarah Elfreth sponsored legislation in the Maryland General Assembly in 2020 and got it across the line. As a refresher, the Resilience Finance Authority is like a stadium authority, in that it can issue bonds to finance resilience projects.

Annapolis has not used the finance authority for our work at City Dock, but I look forward to their support for future infrastructure projects.

I thank the council and the County Executive, our colleagues in the Maryland General Assembly, and all those who have volunteered to serve this forward-thinking initiative that will help us solve the challenges brought about by climate change and sea level rise.

==

Next Tuesday, the 1st of November, we have the Port Marker unveiling ceremony at 11 a.m. The port marker designates Annapolis City Dock as one of the “Sites of Memory” of the Middle Passages international slave route.

This UNESCO program endeavors to improve the understanding of the human tragedy of the slave trade by educating the public and facilitating national reconciliation.

Annapolis joins the following designated sites of memory in Maryland: Oxford on the Eastern Shore, Historic London Town in Edgewater, Historic Sotterley in St. Mary’s County, and Fells Point in Baltimore.

I want to acknowledge the work of Janice Hayes Williams and our partnership with the County on this important project.

==

This Thursday, October 27, is the first day of early voting in Maryland. The Annapolis early voting location is the Pip Moyer Recreation Center, but you can also vote early at any of the nine Early Voting centers in the county.

The deadline for requesting your mail-in ballot is November 1. You can drop your completed mail-in ballot at the drop box at either Pip Moyer Rec Center or Bates Middle School.

On Election Day, Tuesday, November 8, you have until 8 p.m. to cast your ballot at your precinct. Your vote is your voice - make it count!

==

Earlier this month, the City of Annapolis hosted the Maryland Lynching Truth and Reconciliation Commission’s public hearing. I want to thank everyone who contributed to making that event meaningful and memorable.

I have abridged correspondence from Dr. David Fakunle, the chair of the commission, who wrote to thank Alderwoman Tierney. He said:

Thank you for providing testimony. Your presence, participation and insight were significant contributors to what was a tremendous success and an impactful moment. It is important to telling the story of each victim while revealing all factual evidence of the systems that allowed for racial terrorism and the shielding of those responsible for it. We have received enthusiastic feedback from many in attendance, stating they are forever changed by the testimonies and the experience we collectively shared.

May we continue to fight for a state that fully accepts its history and strive to be a place all Marylanders are proud to call their home.

Lastly, City offices will be closed on Friday, November 11 for Veteran’s Day.

In 1918, at the 11th hour on the 11th day of the 11th month, hostilities in World War I - the ‘war to end all wars’ - ceased. Known then as Armistice Day, bells rang and cheering people poured into the street because they knew their loved ones were coming home.

Armistice Day was changed to Veteran's Day in 1954. In Annapolis, Veteran's Day is marked each year with a ceremony at City Dock sponsored by Fleet Reserve, the Maryland Department of Veterans Affairs, the Naval Academy and the US Coast Guard. Other local support comes from the American Legion Post 141 and the Annapolis High ROTC unit.

I want to thank everyone for recognizing the contributions of veterans. I will be at the event at 11 a.m. on 11/11 wearing a poppy on my lapel, in remembrance of those who did not make it home. I know we all join together in thanking veterans and their families for their service, contributions, and sacrifice.

Let's get on with the meeting.
