PETITIONS, REPORTS & COMMUNICATIONS

Update from Mayor

Good evening and happy Columbus Day and Indigenous People's Day. While this is a state and federal holiday - but not a City day off - we want to acknowledge the contributions of Italian Americans and native peoples to our culture and community.

Today was the last day of the Annapolis Boat Show(s) and it was a big success, welcoming tens of thousands to Annapolis. The organizers of the show work closely with City departments including Harbormaster, DPW, Police and Fire, OEM, Transportation and staff in City Manager and Mayor's office. I want to thank all City staff for doing their part to ensure the event runs smoothly.

This is the first meeting back since I participated in a delegation visit to Sweden with officials from the State of Maryland, Anne Arundel County, the Resilience Authority and the City of Annapolis.

I'd like to acknowledge and thank Matthew Earl and Patrick Denker, who funded the trip through their respective foundations. It's wonderful to have folks in our community committed to advancing these issues for the benefit of our residents.

I think they learned first-hand the lessons we brought back and I hope to bring them back to City Council for a recognition later this year.

I believe there is no substitute for experiential learning to take in the complex topics of resilience and the intersection of environmental nationalism and happiness, which Sweden does very well.

In Sweden they take great pride in the initiatives to rethink trash and recycling, transportation infrastructure and how their society works to make a better tomorrow. They sorted out long ago that Swedes are going to pay for it somehow, either up front in infrastructure costs or afterwards in loss of life and property - as we have most recently witnessed with Hurricanes Helene and Milton.

Please know that not every answer is expensive. Some of the solutions are easy and I thank our Swedish counterparts for walking us through their successes and the things they tried that didn't succeed. I look forward to putting the knowledge we gained to work for the residents of Annapolis, Anne Arundel County, and the state of Maryland.

While we were away, Acting Mayor Brooks Schandelmeier got slammed to the mat by Terry Adonis as part of the Hispanic Heritage Month Festival at Pip Moyer Rec Center. He was playing the heel trying to shut down a Loocha-Libre wrestling match calling it “too trashy for Annapolis.” Here’s the photo and may I add this was all in good fun and no official injuries were reported from Ald. Schandelmeier being body slammed.

Last week, the United States Naval Academy Alumni Association hosted their annual Founder’s Day event at Fluegel Hall. We were happy to celebrate the 179th birthday of the Academy and the 249th birthday of the US Navy. I thank Acting Mayor Brooks Schandelmeier for the City’s presence at the event - showcasing our strong partnership between the Academy and the City. Happy Birthday!

I want to acknowledge the work of the Annapolis Police Department in making a quick arrest in the shooting death of 59-year-old Allison McIntyre on October 4th in a parking lot at Bywater Road and Forest Drive. Annapolis Police officers were able to quickly identify a suspect and put out the tag number and make and model of the suspect vehicle. Police put that information out to the public and within a few hours, SWAT moved in and made an arrest without incident.

We’ve got a few events happening in the City in the coming weeks:

- On Saturday, October 19, the annual community rummage sale at Pip Moyer from 8 a.m. to noon, where you can find pre-loved sports equipment, home furnishings and more! The cost is $20 to reserve a spot and $25 if you need the table and chairs.
- From 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Sunday, October 20, the Maryland Avenue Fall Festival will take place - with performances throughout the day and the always-popular Halloween Pup Parade at 2 p.m. That’s all day on Maryland Avenue between State Circle and Prince George St.
- The City’s NAM team will host a community engagement session on Oct. 23 at the Pip Moyer Recreation Center. There will be a focus on overdose awareness, Narcan training and resources, and refreshments. The event is free and starts at 5:30 p.m.
- Two fall events will take place on Saturday, Oct. 26, first is the Fall Harvest festival at Pip Moyer from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. and the second is our annual Day of the Dead festival from 3 to 8 p.m. at Maryland Hall with sugar skull face painting, performances and delicious food!
- This Saturday, Oct. 19, Annapolis will commemorate the 250th anniversary of the burning of the ship “Peggy Stewart.” First, a gathering at Hammond Harwood House followed by a drone show over City Dock sponsored by Fleet Reserve. The burning of the Peggy Stewart was Annapolis’ tea party.

In 1774, angry mobs forced Anthony Stewart to burn his own ship, the Peggy Stewart, because Anthony paid the tea import tax. Stewart attempted to sell the payment as a humanitarian gesture due to the 50-plus indentured servants on board who disembarked in Annapolis. But the angry mob forced Stewart to row out to his ship and set it on fire. That didn't calm the mob who, back on land, burned him in effigy. Stewart eventually returned to England and Maryland joined the other 12 colonies in creating the United States of America. Happy 250th Annapolis!

And the last item for the night is the 2024 Election coming up Nov. 5. To clarify, Annapolis municipal elections are next year - in 2025. In the next few weeks we'll cast our ballots for President, US House and Senate, Maryland Judges and Anne Arundel County School Board, plus some ballot measures.

First deadline to note is Oct. 15, that's tomorrow. If you need to register online to vote or change your registration, you can do that online at elections.maryland.gov. You can also register in-person at your polling place - you'll need to bring proof of residency and identification. Early voting starts next Wednesday, October 23. In Annapolis, the early voting site is the Pip Moyer Rec Center with daily hours from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. through Oct. 31. Anne Arundel County has a handy online tool for checking wait times. Visit aacounty.org and use the keyword "early voting." And lastly, the deadline to go online to request a ballot is Oct. 29. Then we've got election day Nov. 5 with polling locations open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Let's get on with our meeting.
