Whenever a job opening occurs, other than a temporary opening as defined below in any existing job classification, a notice of such opening shall be posted on all bulletin boards for seven (7) working days.

During this period, employees who wish to apply for the open position or job (including employees on layoff) may do so. The application shall be in writing, and it shall be submitted to the Human Resources Department.

The Employer shall fill the opening by promoting the applicant with the longest continuous service, provided he/she is the best qualified to perform the work in the determination of the Director. After the Promotion, the promoted employee will be given a 30-day trial period to determine his/her qualifications for the new position. If the employee proves to be unsuited to the new position during the trial period, he/she will be returned to his/her former job and former rate. If the former job is no longer available, the employee may apply for any other vacant position as provided by the Rules and Regulations of the Personnel System.

The review of

personnel records referred to in the preceding sentence shall occur only if both the affected employees consent in writing to the review. If the employee holding the second position refuses to give such written consent within ten days after a written request to do so, the department director may, in his sole discretion, make the proposed lay-off without the involvement of the referenced committee. If the Employer shall decide to abolish or merge any existing department, then the Employer will notify the union at least within sixty days in advance. Voluntary Demotion is a demotion initiated by the employee generally through the application and selection for a lower level position. Employees are placed in the lower grade at a lower pay rate not to exceed the maximum pay rate for the position. Longevity steps may apply in the consideration for the appropriate step in the new grade.

No demotion shall be made for disciplinary reasons.

Layoff:

In the event it becomes necessary to lay off employees for any reason, employees shall be laid off in the inverse order of their seniority within the relevant classification in their department provided that the director shall have discretion to retain an employee with superior qualifications as determined by the director, in order to layoff a more senior employee with inferior qualifications.
