B. Update from the Mayor

Mayor Gavin Buckley
City Council Remarks
7 p.m. - 9 May 2022
City Council Chambers

Good evening, I would like for us to take a moment to acknowledge the passing of a man who played an important role in Annapolis as a generous member of our business community. Larry Reese, Sr. worked alongside his dad William and as a family business operated the Reese Funeral Home. The Reeses have played an important role to generations of Annapolis families at some of the most vulnerable times in their lives. At this time of loss for the Reeses, I would like for us to take a moment to acknowledge Larry's contributions and his passing.

[MOMENT OF SILENCE]

Thank you.

Last week we had two momentous events in the City. First, the spring sailboat show was a success. Second, the Hillman garage closed for the 14-month rebuild.

The garage closure has gone relatively smoothly. I know that hundreds of City staff are riding the free downtown shuttle from Park Place and are navigating the change. I thank them for their flexibility in adjusting alongside our residents and visitors.

13 months and 3 weeks to go until we see the new garage!

I would like to congratulate Chief Jackson, his officers and detectives in the Annapolis Police Department who broke a difficult case. Week before last, they made an arrest in the April 12 shooting of a 15-year-old at Eastport Terrace. That young person survived.

The person charged is also a young man, a 20-year-old Glen Burnie man facing two counts of attempted first and second-degree murder.

After his arraignment last Monday, he is currently being held without bond.

I want to offer a reminder: Annapolis is no safe harbor for those who bring gun violence here.

Thank you to the Art in Public Places Commission for the downstairs gallery exhibition in cooperation with Gigi's Playhouse. We hosted an opening reception this evening and I got to meet a few of the artists and present them with City Council citations.

"Gigi's Playhouse - Annapolis" joins 54 locations across the United States seeking to change the way the world views Down syndrome and to send a global message of acceptance for all.

The display will be in place for the next few weeks if you'd like to check it out during regular business hours, that's Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at City Hall, 160 Duke of Gloucester.

Coming up on Thursday, the Annapolis Pride parade and festival will host a kickoff party at the Graduate Hotel. The parade and festival will be held on June 4. At Thursday's event, we'll read a "June is Pride Month" proclamation.

The event takes place from 4 to 7 p.m. at the Graduate Hotel. I hope to see you there!

==

Starting on Friday, May 13 and running through Sunday, the Annapolis Uprigging Festival will take place at City Dock. It is a free event with music and food and - most importantly - five tall ships. You can bring the family and check them out, including the Lynx and the Pride of Baltimore.

For a fee, you can even take a sail out on the Bay. You will need to go online for those tickets. That is our first Annapolis Uprigging Festival this weekend at City Dock.

Last item - next week is Bike to Workweek and in Annapolis I encourage our bicycle commuters to meet up at City Dock on the morning of May 18 for an event organized through the Baltimore Metropolitan Council.

Pre-register online at biketoworkmd.com and you can get a free t-shirt. Even if you miss the free tee, there are plenty of giveaways plus the opportunity to meet up with other bike enthusiasts. I will see you there because as you all know; I am a regular bicycle commuter.

Let's get on with tonight's meeting!
