A. Update from the Mayor

Mayor Gavin Buckley, City Council Remarks

Good evening everyone, I hope you all enjoyed time with your families and friends over Thanksgiving.

I want to start out by recognizing the amazing people in our community who give their time, money, love, and energy to helping the less fortunate.

The Food Friday folks gave away turkeys and all the sides, plus additional food for the week after Thanksgiving. The weekly Food Friday distribution out of Pip Moyer is a people-powered operation. It takes a good number of folks to sort, package and then deliver the food. I thank them all, but I would like to recognize Alderwoman Karma O'Neill for her work every week to coordinate that effort.

Food Friday seeks sponsors for 2023. Alderwoman O'Neill, if you'd like to let people know how they can help...

[Ald O'Neill...]

Thank you - this is a great program for people in our community who need support. If your organization can help, please let her know.

Annapolis Police also collected and distributed food for local families for Thanksgiving and turned up to serve at the Annual We Care and Friends Thanksgiving Dinner at the Stanton Center.

Helpers included Alderwoman Rhonda Pindell Charles, the staff from the City's Office of Emergency Management, Calvary United Methodist and others. We are a generous and loving community and it shows!

Coming up, members of the Annapolis Fire Department, including Santa and elves from Annapolis and Anne Arundel County public safety agencies will be collecting new toys during the annual Santa Run on December 11.

Santa's route in the City and County will start at 3:15 p.m. and run until 7:30 p.m. For the closest location to you, visit www.annapolissantarun.com and navigate to: "Routes and Schedule." When the time is right, meet Santa and the elves aboard old fire engines while they collect toys and hand out candy canes.

Also collecting toys and gifts for children in our community is the SOFO Business Alliance. Their "SoFo HO-HO" will run though Dec. 13 with the distribution of gifts on Dec. 17. Check www.SoFoAnnapolis.com for drop-off locations.

On Sunday, the Downtown Annapolis Partnership hosted the Grand Illumination tree lighting at Market Space. Santa Claus arrived in great Annapolis maritime tradition - by boat - but the real highlight of the event were the children and their handmade ornaments. I want to thank the the South Annapolis Yacht Center for stepping up to sponsor this event, Downtown Annapolis Partnership for organizing and local artist Comacell Brown, who worked with the children to decorate the tree.

Downtown is decked out for the holidays and starting this Thursday, we hope to see you at the first of three Thursdays of Midnight Madness.

If you're new to Annapolis, Midnight Madness is a tradition where downtown stores stay open late to accommodate holiday shoppers. But, it's more than that. Carolers are out, hot cocoa awaits, the alpacas are scheduled to be out on Main Street, and don't forget a selfie stop in Snowflake Alley.

We've also got the West Annapolis Holiday Market this weekend, Saturday and Sunday, 11 to 8 on Dec. 3 and 11 to 5 on December 4.

A few other holiday notes:

- the Chocolate Binge Festival on West Street is this Sunday from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. with chocolate and coffee specialties and a Gingerbread House display at the Visitor Center.
- The Eastport Yacht Club Lights Parade is December 10th starting at 6 p.m.
- the downtown Santa Speedo Run is on Dec. 17 and
- the City Dock Menorah lighting is set for Dec. 18.

But the biggest event of the season is this Thursday! We've got our City Hall Open House on Dec. 1 starting at 4 p.m. Stop by for refreshments, meet your neighbors, council members and city staff. We all hope to see you there.

A non-holiday update on our grant planning process with the Housing Authority of Annapolis: Last Monday, community members from Eastport Terrace, Harbour House and residents from surrounding communities came out for a Design Charette as part of our Choice Neighborhoods initiative.

This guided design process was a structured way for residents from the community to think through how we might rework those 29 acres into mixed income housing and mixed use development. We got great ideas from the community about what they'd like to see in a revitalized Eastport Terrace and Harbour House. The ideas will be submitted to the Federal Department of Housing and Urban Development as we continue to work through the planning process. I want to thank everyone who came out and shared their ideas.

The design charette showed how, in involving the community, HACA and the City can move forward for the betterment of residents. I was happy to see the enthusiasm of the adult and youth participants, and I thank everyone who came out.
