PETITIONS, REPORTS & COMMUNICATIONS

A. Update from the Mayor

Mayor Gavin Buckley City Council Remarks 7 p.m. 27 March 2023
City Council Chambers

Good evening!

Last week, I met with members of Governor Moore's team, to outline City of Annapolis priorities for consideration in the Maryland state budget. It was a great meeting and they were excited to see and learn about all the critical resiliency, equity, access and mobility projects we are working to deliver in the next three years.

I truly appreciate the openness and partnership with which Gov. Moore and his staff are engaging with the City. I look forward to the continuation of these conversations - with Governor Moore and his team, with new Cabinet Secretaries, and with all our State and Federal partners - to keep building understanding and support, including funding support, that we will need to deliver these ambitious projects.

Governor Moore has spoken frequently about his determination that Maryland will set the pace when it comes to resiliency, jobs and the economy. Annapolis is ready to do its part through policies, (like our commitment to sustainable, electric mobility options) and projects (like our re-imagined City Dock) that will position our city, and our state to lead. As Maryland's capital city, we are also determined to set the pace.

==

Over the weekend, the Annapolis Film Festival brought outstanding feature, documentary and short films to a number of venues around the City. The program this year was one of the best ever and I want to thank and congratulate everyone involved on an amazing weekend. The Film Festival is a great draw during an otherwise quiet period in Annapolis. It helps fill hotels and inns, and gives a boost to local business and gives us all something to think and talk about. I hope you enjoyed your weekend at the movies!

==

On Saturday, I was honored to attend the inauguration of President Nora Demleitner at St. John's College. She is the 25th president of this three-centuries old college - and the first woman. St John's is very lucky to have a scholar and leader as experienced and talented as President Demleitner and I look forward to building an even closer relationship with St John's under her leadership.

==

On Saturday, we will celebrate the Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Parade and African Diaspora Festival in Annapolis. The parade will start at noon just below Westgate Circle. It will travel down West Street to Main Street to City Dock where the festival will take place. I will be marching in the Parade, along with some of my Council and City colleagues. I hope to see you there!

==

Lastly, I want to give a quick reminder that City offices will be closed in observance of Spring religious holidays. The Pip Moyer Center will be open on Good Friday but closed on Easter Sunday. Trash and recycling pickups will not change. Happy Easter and Happy Passover to all who celebrate!

And now, let's get on with the meeting!
