WHEREAS, Section 7-101 of the Land Use Article of the Annotated Code of Maryland encourages local jurisdictions to enact local laws providing for or requiring affordable housing; and

WHEREAS, this legislation is in conformance with the objectives of Section 7-101 of the Land Use Article of the Annotated Code of Maryland; and

WHEREAS, the 2009 Annapolis Comprehensive Plan demonstrates that the housing market is affected by the unavailability of land for new development, that new development is increasingly limited to annexation areas, and that housing is increasingly done through the redevelopment and conversion of previously non-residential sites and structures; and

WHEREAS, the lack of available housing and land makes it increasingly difficult to provide new housing affordable to the workforce, including moderate and low income households, and this, in turn, forces many households to live an extended distance from work; and

WHEREAS, past efforts have been made to encourage moderately priced housing construction through zoning incentives, permitting greater density, and relaxation of some building and subdivision regulations; and

WHEREAS, the density bonus has not served as a sufficient incentive to private developers to construct moderately priced dwellings units because site constraints often limit density, thereby making the density bonus difficult to achieve; and

WHEREAS, household incomes have not kept pace with the sharp increase in home sales prices, thereby making it difficult or impossible for middle-income families to purchase a new home; and

WHEREAS, the objectives of this ordinance are to:

Encourage and maintain wide choices of housing for people of all incomes, ages, lifestyles, and physical capabilities at appropriate locations and densities and to implement policies to bridge housing affordability gaps;

Make housing that is affordable to low, moderate, and middle-income households a priority in all Wards;

Ensure that all sector study amendments and the Comprehensive Plan address the need for housing for low, moderate, and middle-income households;

Implement provisions in the Code that increase the long-term supply of affordable housing to households of low and moderate incomes, particularly in areas that are easily accessible to transit; and

Require all subdivisions of 10 or more dwelling units to include a minimum number of moderately priced units on-site.
