Why are you interested in serving on a board or commission?

I began my professional career focused on the elderly, working with a gerontologist at GWU focused on aging and medical ethics. The issues I learned about then, respect for autonomy, compassion for vulnerable populations and careful policy assessment continue to animate what I do today, albeit with a focus now on pediatric populations. Last year my 88 yo Dad, who lived with me, passed here in the City. Like all of us, I learned so much from supporting him and our family through the last years of his life and his final months. I'm interested in serving on the commission as a way to give back to the community and share my expertise and experience to better the lives of all elderly persons in Annapolis.
